Mount Union Magazine is published in the winter and summer by the University of Mount Union Office of Marketing, University of Mount Union, 1972 Clark Ave., Alliance, OH 44601 for its alumni and friends.

Dear Friends,

Great things are happening at Mount Union!

During Alumni Weekend and Homecoming, campaign co-chairs Dr. Richard '72 and Cheryl (Brown '72) Drake shared the exciting news that commitments to the Inspiring Minds, Transforming Lives campaign had reached nearly $34 million, almost 70 percent of the campaign's goal of $50 million. Thanks to generous leadership commitments from trustees, alumni, friends, and organizations, we've made a strong start.

Most of the campaign's facilities funding goals have been met. That means we can now turn attention to securing essential gifts for the Mount Union Fund, current scholarships, endowed scholarships, and the Rescue Fund, which helps seniors get over the finish line, diploma in hand. It's fitting to focus on accessibility and affordability as our campaign goes public, and we seek the involvement of thousands of our alumni. Many of you have benefited from Mount Union's commitment to helping people from all walks of life achieve a higher education. Your participation in the campaign is essential. Please join in and help transform the lives of our students!

As Margot and I come to the end of our service to the University, we often speak with awe of the energy and loyalty of the University's students, faculty, administrators, staff, alumni, and friends. The momentum of our campaign and the sustained success of Mount Union are both rooted in the great spirit of the University's people.

We will always cherish the wonderful privilege of becoming part of the Mount Union community! We truly appreciated your warm welcome when we arrived and all you have done to encourage and support us. We look forward to the great things Mount will accomplish in the future, thanks to your generosity and loyalty.

Thanks for all you do for Mount Union!

TALKING

MOUNT UNION PELL OPPORTUNITY GRANT INTRODUCED, AIDING IN BRIDGING FINANCIAL GAP FOR STUDENTS IN NEED

Mount Union continues to address college affordability and make its education accessible to students of all backgrounds by establishing the Mount Union Pell Opportunity Grant. This grant will bridge the entire gap between tuition costs and what families of modest financial means can afford to pay toward a college degree. After qualified students have tapped funds from the Federal Pell Grant and loan programs, Mount Union Pell Opportunity Grants will cover remaining financial needs to fully pay for the University's tuition and technology fee. To receive these grants, students must meet academic and family need criteria.

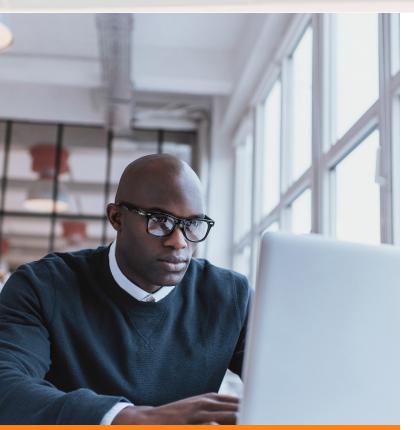

"Our goal at the University is to extend educational opportunity to bright students from hardworking families. At present, a quarter of our students come from families with incomes under $40,000. We want to make sure the school stays within reach of those students and their families." Beginning in the fall of 2020, the Mount Union Pell Opportunity Grant will be awarded to new, first-year students from Ohio and across the United States. Students eligible for the grant must have a high school GPA of 3.0 or higher, file the Free Application for Student Financial Aid (FAFSA) and be Pell eligible with a parent income of $55,000 or less.

Mount Union has a rich history of serving Pell eligible students. In fact, the University was recently recognized as a Top Performer on Social Mobility among Midwest Regional Colleges by U.S. News and World Report, which measures how well institutions graduate students who received Federal Pell Grants (see page 4).

"With the total number of Pell Grant recipients increasing by seven percent nationally over the past decade and the high number of Pell eligible students that the University currently serves, it is essential for Mount Union to help lift the burden of debt carried by our most financially challenged students through the establishment of this grant," said Lindajean Heller Western, vice president for enrollment management.

FULLY-ONLINE, SPECIALIZED MBA PROGRAM LAUNCHING AUGUST 2020

Mount Union is pleased to announce the addition of a fully-online Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree program, with concentrations in leadership and innovation and business analytics, to its academic offering beginning in August of 2020 following pending approvals from the Ohio Department of Education Higher Learning Commission.

Mount Union's MBA was uniquely designed and structured with the flexibility working professionals want and need. For those who are interested in career development but not looking for a complete MBA degree program, Mount Union offers five-course graduate certificates in the aforementioned concentrations.

The 36-credit-hour* MBA degree program is presented in a six-week, non-cohort format that allows students to complete assignments and interact with professors on their own time. With three start dates in August, January, and May, students can start and stop the program at a time suitable for their schedules.

MOUNT UNION NAMED TO U.S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT'S TOP COLLEGE, BEST VALUE, TOP PERFORMERS IN SOCIAL MOBILITY RANKINGS

For the 29th consecutive year, Mount Union has been recognized as a top college by U.S. News and World Report.

Mount Union was ranked 13th among Midwest Regional Colleges in U.S. News and World Report's 2020 Best Colleges rankings. The Midwest Regional category includes institutions from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

The institution was also ranked ninth for Best Value, which takes into account the ratio of quality to price, the percentage of undergraduates that receive need-based aid, and the total scholarship/need-based aid received by students.

In addition, Mount Union was ranked as a Top Performer on Social Mobility, which is a new ranking introduced by U.S. News and World Report for the 2020 rankings. The ranking measures how well schools graduated students who received federal Pell Grants. Mount Union ranked in the top third of Midwest Regional Colleges for this ranking.

In response to the rankings, Mount Union President Dick Merriman stated, "We are very committed to helping hard-working students — including those from families of modest financial means — gain a valuable education and move ahead in careers and community leadership. It is gratifying to be recognized for our success in powering social mobility."

Mount Union holds numerous national rankings. The University has been included in Forbes' 2019 America's Best Colleges ranking and The Wall Street Journal/Times Higher Education College Rankings. Other citations have been garnered from Princeton Review's Guide to Green Colleges, College Factual, Niche, STARS, Arbor Day Foundation, and Sierra Club.

M CLUB HALL OF FAME

The Mount Union varisty letter winners association inducted its 2019 Hall of Fame Class and gave special awards on November 1. The Hall of Fame class included: (front, l-r) Joe Libster '03 (men's tennis); Tiffany Hogya (Honorary M Club); Jill (Martin '92) Kistler (women's soccer); Jeff Gurney '95 (men's soccer); (back, l-r) Kyle Rodstrom '00 (men's track and field); Ken John '81 (men's track and field); Eddis Singleton '04 (men's swimming and diving); Brandon Smith '04 (men's swimming and diving); and Dr. Roger Palutsis (Honorary M Club). Not pictured are Brian Wervey '97 (football), Dr. Michael McGrady (Honorary M Club), and Ed Warinner '84 (Duke Barret Award).

HOMECOMING AWARD WINNERS

The 2019 Alumni Brunch welcomed back generations of alumni and featured an award ceremony honoring recipients for their work and dedication to the University. Award winners were (l-r): Len '69 and Lynda (Cailor '69) Slack (Dodie Davis Alumni Service Award), Laura Griffin '11 (Young Alumni Award), and Dr. Mark Himmelein, professor of German (McKinley Fellow Award).

FOOTBALL PROGRAM, 2012 NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM, KEHRES '74 MAKE ESPN LISTS OF BEST PROGRAMS, TEAMS, AND COACHES OF THE PAST 150 YEARS

To celebrate the 150th season of college football, ESPN produced a list of the 50 best college football programs over the sport's 150 year history, and Mount Union is the highest non-Division I program at No. 16.

ESPN's Stats and Information Group came up with a metric with a goal to, "Honor the accomplishments of teams across 150 seasons and all divisions, while rewarding successful programs at the highest level in the sport's most competitive era."

Mount Union is ranked just between No. 15 Louisiana State University and No. 17 University of Miami (Fla.). The University of Alabama is ranked No. 1 with Notre Dame University, The Ohio State University, the University of Oklahoma, and the University of Southern California rounding out the top five.

The site said this about the Purple Raiders, "It's hard to argue with this level of success, even at Division III. The coach with the highest winning percentage in the history of the game, Larry Kehres, coached at Mount Union. Under Kehres, the Purple Raiders won 54 straight games, an NCAA record, lost one, then won 55 straight. Kehres retired in 2012, but the Purple Raiders extended their string of Ohio Athletic Conference titles to 24 before falling short in 2016."

The 2012 Mount Union football team, which went 15-0 and won the team's 11th national title in College Football Hall of Famer Larry Kehres' '74 final game as head coach, is the only NCAA Division III team on ESPN's list of the 150 Greatest Teams. Kehres was also ranked 28th on ESPN's list of the 150 Greatest Coaches in College Football History.

The panel of 150 media members, athletic administrators, and former players and coaches selected these honors.

"The voters went for national champions galore — undefeated champions, one-loss champions and, at the very top, rarely tested champions. But not every team here finished No. 1. The highest-ranked one-loss team, at No. 31, is remembered for the game it didn't win," commented ESPN college football commentator Ivan Maisel. "The final list represents an array of styles but a commonality of substance, and the teams range from one that played 131 years ago to two squads that suited up as recently as 2018."

RACHEL BOYCE LANG INTERNATIONAL CONCERT TOUR 2019

In 2006, the Rachel Boyce Lang Foundation generously established an endowed fund that reinstated Mount Union's International Concert Tour after nearly three decades of purely domestic travel. The Rachel Boyce Lang International Concert Tour fund sponsors, in part, a life-enriching global touring experience for Concert Choir members once every four years. The foundation has provided the lead gift for this tour; however, additional funds are needed to help defray the costs of transportation, publicity, lodging, and meals.

In June 2019, the tour went through Scotland with groups of alumni, friends, and family joining the Concert Choir for many of its performances. Locations included Glasgow, Edinburgh, and Mallaig throughout the 10-day trip.

"Our trip to Scotland was the epitome of beauty! In short, our hard work was rewarded with seven thrilling performances and the opportunity to experience the unmatched splendor of this remarkable country. I would never have been able to have this life-changing experience without the opportunities provided by the University of Mount Union Concert Choir and the generous financial support of the Rachel Boyce Lang International Tour Endowment."

-Elizabeth Domer '20 (right, far right)

"Our trip to Scotland alongside the Mount Union Concert Choir was an adventure. I never knew Scotland had so much to offer! The scenery, the history, the bagpipers everywhere we went could not have been more fascinating. And the people in our group were so much fun! We were able to attend many of the choir's concerts and, of course, were blown away by their talent."

-Ruthie Wheeler '76

"Our family was able to attend the choir performances in absolutely beautiful churches, sail on Loch Ness, visit the Isle of Skye, and tour many more places. This experience that Mount Union and Dr. Cook are able to provide our students is definitely one to remember for both Kaitlyn and I!"

-Connie Slezak, mother of Kaitlyn Slezak '20

"What a joy to perform in some of the United Kingdom's most historically important, visually captivating, and spiritually inspiring churches and chapels. Singing in the Chapel Royal at Stirling Castle and the Greyfriars Kirk in Edinburgh, both adorned with crystalline and reverberant acoustics, was pure magic, indeed! In sum, the musical experience was transformative and its impact immeasurable. Beyond the performances was a wonderful array of educational excursions to castles, palaces, and museums; free time for shopping and sampling the local cuisine; and myriad opportunities to drink in the rugged splendor of the natural landscape. Indeed, we have all been changed in ways that are unexplainable and unnamable. In the words of the Scottish writer Alastair McIntosh, our journey was 'a walk-through space and time, across a physical landscape and into a spiritual one."

CAMPAIGN FOR MOUNT UNION

PUBLIC PHASE UNDERWAY MOUNTUNION.EDU/INSPIRE

KICK-OFF

During Alumni Weekend and Homecoming, the University of Mount Union officially announced the public phase of its "Inspiring Minds, Transforming Lives" campaign.

In conjunction with the Compass 2021 strategic plan, this five-year, $50 million-dollar comprehensive campaign is an opportunity for the entire Mount Union community to come together to show their support for our students. There are several priorities of the campaign, and President Merriman believes that making a Mount Union education accessible to all students remains paramount, with a goal of $25 million earmarked for student affordability.

Opportunity, innovation, and excellence – it's what we need to impact the futures of our students for today and tomorrow.

INSPIRING STUDENT SUCCESS

THE MOUNT UNION FUND

The Mount Union Fund is a critical source of revenue that underwrites virtually every aspect of a Mount Union education. Because of the generosity of alumni, employees, parents, and friends who provide gifts to The Mount Union Fund each year, our students are able to enjoy an exceptional educational experience.

Your annual support ensures scholarships are awarded, books are given to deserving students, study abroad experiences are made possible, and state-ofthe-art equipment is added to the classroom. Unrestricted in nature, every gift to The Mount Union Fund is utilized where it is needed most and supports the operating costs essential to building quality into every aspect of college life.

INSPIRING OPPORTUNITY

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

The cost of a college education and increasing student debt are in the national spotlight. Both are top concerns for today's families and pose significant obstacles for students seeking undergraduate and graduate degrees. Ensuring that hardworking families and students continue to have access to a Mount Union education is essential to fulfilling our mission to prepare students for fulfilling lives, meaningful work, and responsible citizenship.

DESTINEE THOMPSON '20

English Major from Cleveland, Ohio

"A major reason I chose Mount was because it was the most affordable option. I knew I wanted a full college experience. Living on campus and being relatively far from home was important to me. Overall, Mount allowed me to do this. Scholarships offered a boost in making college a little bit more affordable for me."

GIAN STEELE '21

Music Education Major from Dover, Ohio

"Without scholarships, my family would not have been able to afford an education for me at Mount Union. I am still very thankful to this day that I managed to receive these scholarships, and I strive to do my very best every day to maintain a good GPA in order to keep them."

DONA MCCONNELL ABELT

Friend of the University

"Nursing is a wonderful program with which I am very impressed. I hope my investment in Mount Union will inspire others to do the same."

DR. ANNE CHRISTO-BAKER Chair of the Department of Business

"The risk management and insurance program equips students with skills that are important for protecting the financial stability of individuals and families as well as businesses. It is designed to prepare students for careers in for-profit and non-profit sectors."

INSPIRING INNOVATION

ACADEMIC AND CO-CURRICULAR PROGRAMS

We must remain committed to innovation in all forms, both in and out of the classroom. Mount Union's strength in the liberal arts and experiential learning uniquely positions the institution to deliver such an education – one that is greatly desired by today's employers. Classroom learning, practical opportunities, a diverse and inclusive environment, and the personal attention for which Mount Union is known provide an atmosphere that fosters leadership development, student growth, and alumni success.

CAPERS CENTER Our athletic programs have been a source of great pride, and a vital part of Mount Union for many years. INSPIRING EXCELLENCE

FACILITY FNHANCEMENTS

Time and again, the University has risen to the challenge of change, and because Mount Union has remained nimble, it is strong, vital, and relevant in the 21st century. Continuing this history of excellence is paramount to ensure ongoing success in today's competitive higher education landscape. Thus, a strong commitment to exceptional quality across the board – from programs to facilities, and technology to engagement – will continue to foster an environment that is keenly focused on our students' future successes.

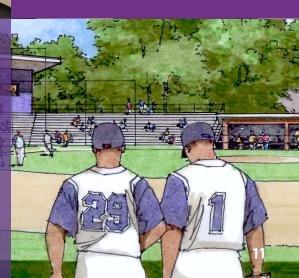

KOLENBRANDER-HARTER

As we prepare students for success, it is imperative that we provide them with spaces that foster individual study, communication, and team work, while leveraging innovation and technology to do so. In addition, the Center for Student Success will be located on the first floor and will empower students in the strategic pursuit of their goals related to personal transition, self-discovery, academic progress and success, and career planning.

RAFELD-ROGERS FIELD

collaboration skills essential to student

While the Rafeld-Rogers turfed infield is a significant improvement, Mount Union's baseball and softball park simply does not measure up to the exceptional quality of our other athletic and campus facilities. In order to attract prospective student athletes and provide our current athletes with top-notch practice and game day facilities, we want to expand Rafeld Rogers Park to include a renovated press box, dugouts, and grandstands.

HELPING STUDENTS REACH THE

Endowed scholarships enhance access to a Mount Union education

Every year, hundreds of students are welcomed to campus who are preparing to have their own unique experience. However, not all of them are able to complete the journey from signing the matriculation book to walking across the commencement stage due to financial circumstances, leaving aspirations unrealized.

Today, more students are able to realize their dreams thanks in large part to the generosity of alumni, faculty, and friends of the institution who endow scholarships to help make a Mount Union education more accessible. Whether they are specified based on program, geography, socioeconomic background, or financial hardship, endowed scholarships are imperative so that students can successfully complete their educational goals. The following stories highlight why donors feel compelled to give to generations of Mount Union students, and how grateful students are for their philanthropy.

MARK AND SHARON INZETTA

The Mark and Sharon Inzetta Endowed Scholarship

Although Mark and Sharon Inzetta are not Mount Union alumni, their sons Adam '09 and Richard '10 had impactful undergraduate experiences during their time on campus. Recognizing the influence that Mount Union had on the lives of their sons, the Inzettas continue to support the institution through meeting with students and creating The Mark and Sharon Inzetta Endowed Scholarship.

Mark, chief legal officer at Sbarro, and Sharon, nurse coordinator for The Gary B. and Pamela S. Williams Center for Breast Health at Summa Health, feel the community that was fostered by members and advisors of Alpha Tau Omega and the wrestling team helped create a positive environment for their sons.

"Balancing academics with being in the fraternity and participating in athletics gave them a core group of people from all different backgrounds and really provided some of the best experiences they had," Sharon said.

Mark and Sharon continue to have a presence on campus, as Sharon's role at Summa Health makes it easy for her to be engaged with Mount Union's nursing program. Both have participated in the Office of Alumni Engagement's "Dinner with 12 Raiders" event that strengthens the connection between current students, alumni, and friends.

"We want to, in our own small way, give back to the University and make certain it continues providing the same experience to current and future students as it provided for Adam and Richard," Mark said. "It was a great experience for them, and we want it to remain that way for others."

AIRIANNA CULLER '21

Recipient of The Mark and Sharon Inzetta Endowed Scholarship

Airianna Culler '21, of North Canton, Ohio, had several offers to play softball from other schools, but ultimately chose Mount Union because it had more to offer her than just athletics.

Culler's initial plans were to play softball and study engineering, but those plans would soon change after an injury on the diamond prevented her softball career from moving forward. Once her injury healed, she decided to switch her major to exercise science and throw shot put and javelin for the track and field team.

Although the injury was a major setback to her plans, Culler explains that her failures, change of majors, and athletic switch only made her stronger.

"I learned that sometimes you have to fail to succeed," she said.

Culler goes on to say that this switch has only made her excited for her future and has taught her so much about herself and the things of which she is capable. She initially struggled with being away from home and in a new environment, as well as the internal battle of seeing her perfectly laid plans go awry. This adversity helped her become a better person, proving she should never give up on herself.

Culler thanks the Inzettas and other donors because she could not have done it without them and their support. The Inzetta Scholarship is currently helping her with her long-term plan. Upon graduating, Culler hopes to attend graduate school to pursue a master's degree in occupational therapy. As a result of this scholarship, she is able to focus more on her academics and less about finances. With an extended academic plan, this scholarship is helping her focus more on her future goals.

The financial peace of mind has motivated Culler to continue her track and field career, as well as excel academically and explore her passions. She is grateful to family, friends, and donors for supporting and continually pushing her to achieve each step of her exciting new plan.

JOHN '66 AND CARLA MCINTOSH

The McIntosh Scholarship

When talking to John '66 and Carla McIntosh, it is easy to decipher that their passion for education runs deep.

Carla, a retired teacher with decades of service to Canton City Schools, still volunteers at Knox Elementary in Beloit, Ohio when she can. After a few decades of his own in education administration, John now supervises some of Mount Union's student teachers when they are in the field as a post-retirement opportunity.

Following in their footsteps, their daughter Danielle (McIntosh '01) Hawk has been teaching since she graduated from Mount Union and was recently hired as principal of Malvern Elementary School in Malvern, Ohio.

"I had an exceptional education at Mount Union that propelled me into my career immediately following graduation," Hawk said."

Suffice it to say that the McIntosh family cares about students' educational journeys. The Mount Union legacy they have created by endowing The McIntosh Scholarship is simply one way they give back to the institution.

"From my perspective as an educator and a parent, I've been around a lot of educational settings and I can say that few have the facilities, programming, and environment like Mount Union," John said. "The University has not stood still and is always exploring new programs to offer students so they can get employed when they graduate."

Though Carla is not an alumna of Mount Union, she still feels a connection to the institution through her family and community engagement.

"Danielle loved her time at Mount Union, and as a parent, that makes you feel proud to be part of this community," Carla said. "Students can get bogged down with debt, and we just want to help them finish their education for their future."

The McIntosh's want to lessen the financial burden of a college education for deserving students and their families so that this generation of students can create unique legacies of their own.

MONICA HAINES '20

Recipient of The McIntosh Scholarship

Like the McIntosh's, community is important to Monica Haines '20. When looking at her collegiate options, Haines visited 10 different institutions, but Mount always stood out at the top.

"I knew I wanted a smaller school, and there was a very welcoming community as soon as I stepped onto campus at Mount," Haines said. "It felt like home right from my first visit."

Haines, like countless others Purple Raiders, has made lifelong friends during her time at Mount Union and speaks glowingly about the support she has received from the faculty on campus, stating that she has "a support system around every corner."

Mount Union's Department of Education allows first-year students to sit in P-12 classrooms, where they discover which grade level they feel they would be best suited to teach.

"I found out pretty quickly that I didn't want to teach kids how to do 2+2, and I also didn't want to teach kids how to do calculus, so I found a nice medium in being a middle childhood teacher," Haines said.

A Massillon, Ohio native, Haines' community connections will grow even more by attending Mount Union and student teaching in the Louisville School District this upcoming spring. She has also experienced hands-on learning through peer mentoring and service-learning programs in the Alliance and surrounding communities.

Haines' positive experiences at Mount Union have resonated with her family as well, with her sister already accepted to enroll as a first-year student in fall of 2020. Without the support of the Mount Union community, the Haines family legacy at Mount Union might not have been possible.

"When you see that initial amount your first year, it is tough to believe you can afford to go to college," she said. "If it wasn't for scholarships like the one I received, a Mount Union education would not have been accessible.

"It's very helpful that people who have seen the impact that Mount has on them, or on their children, give back to help make this possible for current students, and I am grateful for that."

JIM '73 AND PAM (RICHARDS '73) KIMBLE

The Willard and Vivian Richards Scholarship

While living in The Last Frontier of Alaska, Pam (Richards '73) and Jim '73 Kimble have maintained a unique connection with Mount. From their time as undergraduates, to returning as faculty members, and seeing their children graduate from Mount Union as alumni, the Kimbles are the embodiment of the value of a Mount Union education.

"It was a huge privilege to come back as a faculty member and prepare teachers at Mount Union," Pam said. "For me, it was a full circle that was beyond my imagination, and I still keep in touch with a lot of my former students."

They endowed The Willard and Vivian Richards Scholarship, which is named in honor of Pam's parents, who made financial sacrifices to help Pam and her sister attend college and achieve their goals.

"We want to be able to help Mount Union stay accessible to all students who want to attend, including the ones whose families think a Mount Union education is beyond their financial abilities," Pam said. "I like to give back to the University so that other people can do the same thing and pay it forward, because somebody paid ahead to help me."

While a faculty member, Jim saw how important the Mount Union experience was to first-generation college students and wanted to help make sure those families were supported.

"To many families for whom Mount Union was a first experience with higher education, they are often challenged with resources," Jim said. "The liberal arts experience, both in and out of professional programs at Mount Union, helps make better people, and I certainly want to support that."

The Kimbles hope the next generation of Mount Union students embrace the institution as their own, just as it became theirs when they attended in the 1970s.

"You attach to Mount Union in different ways at different stages of your life, but no matter what, it's great to be a part of Mount Union for the rest of your life," Pam said.

URGELA FIGARO '23

Recipient of The Willard and Vivian Richards Scholarship

Although she has only been on campus for a few months, Urgela Figaro '23 has already created a path for her future success.

The Uniontown, Ohio native knew of Mount Union and was referred to check out campus by her father. Ultimately, she chose to attend because of the welcoming atmosphere that has continued throughout her first semester.

"I like the vibe of the community here, and the people that I have met make Mount Union feel like a second home to me," Figaro said.

Figaro is already active on campus through her involvement with the Black Student Union, and she has declared a major in international affairs and diplomacy, which she chose as a result of a desire to learn more about current global issues and possible solutions.

Along with The Willard and Vivian Richards Scholarship, Figaro is also a recipient of the Manzilla Multicultural Award and the Founder's Scholarship, and she states that all three were instrumental in her decision to attend Mount Union.

The University of Mount Union is getting closer to its 175th anniversary, which is now less than two years away. While it is to be expected that much has changed on campus in nearly two centuries, present still are the principles brought forth by founder Orville Nelson Hartshorn.

As Mount Union strives to expand its curriculum in order to meet the demands of a modern workforce, it continues to provide the strong liberal arts foundation that has produced exceptional alumni since 1846.

Providing hands-on experiences since the institution's founding, Mount Union faculty members have been preparing leaders for generations. Professors such as the late Dr. William "Rocky" Rice (left, in the 1960s), professor of geology, and Dr. Kelsey (O'Driscoll '11) Scanlon (right), assistant professor of exercise science, illustrate that the student-centric approach has remained consistent over time.

Read on to discover just a few of the success stories of alumni and current students with similar academic passions.

Maddie Sofia '11 has been in the treetops of Olympic National Forest, spent time with NASA researchers, and simulated volcanic eruptions with scientists from around the world. However, one of her most ambitious endeavors to date is hosting Short Wave, the new daily science podcast from National Public Radio (NPR).

Her passion for science was relatively innate, in having a science teacher for a mother and a veterinarian for a grandfather. These surroundings allowed Sofia the chance to dissect a sheep's heart with her mother at the age of 14, an experience she jovially describes as a "pretty cool birthday present." She initially wanted to be a veterinarian, but Sofia's curiosity stretched beyond the cardiovascular when she began her undergraduate research career at Mount.

"The work that I did at Mount Union was on an amphibian disease, so I was still in the animal world, but I got to do research, and then I just fell in love with scientific research as a whole," Sofia said. "It was definitely my time at Mount Union, and professors like Dr. Brandon Sheafor and Dr. Kim Risley, that led me to my career path and the pursuit of a Ph.D."

NATURAL AND H

That realization led Sofia to the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry, where she earned a Ph.D. in microbiology and immunology. While there, she had the crystalizing moment for her future as a science communicator.

"I was sitting in a talk and really having a hard time understanding what the presenter was talking about and feeling engaged by it," she said. "I remember thinking, 'If I am in this program, and I can't understand what my fellow classmates are talking about, how is anybody supposed to understand what we as a scientific community are doing?"

Sofia knew she wanted to do something about that problem, so she decided to apply for an internship at NPR. From working as a producer on "Joe's Big Idea" to leading her own video series, "Maddie About Science," she has made her mark at one of the most recognized brands in media.

Four jam-packed years later, Sofia finds herself at the helm of a podcast that has the name and support of a network that boasts more than 23 million unique listeners every month, making it the top podcast network in the world according to 2019 Podtrac data.

She describes her quick career trajectory as "intense," but recognizes her fortune in getting to live her dream of bringing science to as many people as possible. "It's a mixture of excitement and responsibility with a little bit of intimidation, but the team we have put together is amazing, and it's a really good show," Sofia said about her new venture.

Sofia remains very active in promoting science outside of her podcast and videos, as she, along with Joe Palca of "Joe's Big Idea," co-founded NPR Scicommers, a community of scientists and engineers with more than a thousand members across the country. She has also returned to Mount to speak with STEM students about effectively communicating scientific research.

"People ask me what I think is the best thing about Mount Union," Sofia said. "I tell them I had such an awesome relationship with my advisors, and when you're at a smaller school, you get that hands-on, one-on-one research experience you might not get elsewhere. For that reason alone, I try to stay as engaged as I can."

Short Wave is available on Apple Podcasts and Spotify. Follow the conversation with Short Wave on Twitter with #NPRShortWave.

Sofia describes Short Wave as, "Bringing a little science into your minutes through looking at everyday mysteries,

new scientific discoveries,
and telling human stories in a fun, accessible, and engaging way."

It was not until a call came from Suzy (Venet '98) Pietz, head coach of the Mount Union women's basketball team, that Sarah Turley '21 decided to make a visit to Mount Union. It was soon thereafter that the junior biochemistry major declared "love at first visit."

Although basketball is what brought Turley to campus, it is her passion for medicine that made her realize that Mount Union was the place that could help her reach her future goals.

"I knew that I wanted to go to med school after college, and Mount's biochemistry major had everything I needed to be prepared for graduate school and the MCAT test," Turley said. "The minute I saw the high-tech labs, I fell in love with the idea of everything I could be doing."

The idea she formed during her first glimpse of campus has since become a reality in a very unique way. Although all Mount Union biochemistry majors are required to participate in research their junior and senior years, Turley had the opportunity to get a head start in her sophomore year while working with her advisor, Dr. Keith Miller, associate professor of chemistry and biochemistry, on immunotherapy and cancer cell research.

"As a sophomore, I was already getting the chance to grow different cancer cell lines and analyze why macrophages are not consuming the cancer cells in a body," Turley said. "A lot of schools don't let you do research in this major that early, so it's a really cool opportunity."

Turley's research ambition proved rewarding outside of the lab, as her experience early in her collegiate career helped her earn a selection as one of 165 students across the country to be part of the Summer Pediatric Research Scholars Program at Akron Children's Hospital (ACH).

Thus, during the summer of 2019, she worked side-by-side with some of the best doctors in the nation, researching infectious disease treatment in pediatric patients for 10 weeks. Turley called her summer at ACH, "one of the most amazing experiences of my life."

Though she still has a few years left in her undergraduate career, Turley's experiences have her well on her way to her dream career of being a pediatric trauma physician. Although her academic prospects have her excited, her smile is never wider than when she talks about the support from the people who have made Mount Union feel like home for the past few years. She is grateful to the faculty in her major and her team for their assistance in helping her create a network in her field.

"My advisor, coaches, and teammates provide unlimited support for me with preparation for interviews, study tables, and even bringing me food when I'm studying late at night," Turley said. "I think having that support system behind me, which continually tells me that I'm not doing this alone, has really helped get me to where I need to be."

"I have professors who come and cheer louder at my games than some of the parents. The people here care as much about your success and your life as you do."

An illustrious career of 692 performances on the stage of The Metropolitan Opera might not have been the future of Eduardo Valdes '83 had it not been for Mount Union's International Concert Tour.

Valdes, a solo principal artist at The Met for 26 years, was intending to follow a career in medicine in his native Puerto Rico while using music as a therapy of sorts. He was part of a choir that volunteered to help the Mount Union Concert Choir while they were on tour in Puerto Rico in 1979 when he met Dr. Gordon Brock, who heard him sing and encouraged him to audition.

From that point on, Valdes knew that, with hard work, he could make his passion into a career. He offered his vocal and percussion talents to six different ensembles during his time on campus, while also performing in two theatre productions. That level of co-curricular involvement prepared him for the demands of his professional career while offering plenty of great opportunities.

ARTS AND H

"There are so, so many great memories it is hard to pick just one," Valdes said. "Mount Union was the perfect environment for me, and you don't often realize how special your experience was until you graduate and leave."

Upon graduating, Valdes went on to earn a master's degree from the Cleveland Institute of Music at Case Western Reserve University. He credits his Mount Union education as a foundation for success in a rigorous program.

Valdes believes that the arts are an integral component in helping students of all levels not only become more disciplined through frequent practice, but also express their creativity while pursuing other career paths.

"I would say that 75 percent of those on The Met's Wall of Fame did not start out their lives thinking they would be opera singers," Valdes said. "They found this path because they had opportunities presented to them to realize their talent."

Today, Valdes, who is on the Wall of Fame himself, is taking his experience on one of the world's most prolific stages and passing it onto the next generation of performers.

"Not only am I working in one of the most important houses in the world, but I have had the best first-hand knowledge performing with some of the best in the world," Valdes said. "There is a big shift happening in the art form, and I am happy that I have the experience I can pass along to other performers."

Valdes' goals for the future, beyond performing at The Met, include expanding his teaching through V-2 Studios (Valdes Voice Studios) in New York and leading masterclasses around the world, like those he gave to students on campus in 2016 and 2018.

"Mount Union was the perfect enviornment for me, and you don't often realize how special your experience was until you graduate and leave."

Mark Bruns '22 is just a regular college student — except that his daily schedule is turned up to the maximum level. Instead of getting the "normal" college experience, Bruns chose to dive head first into multiple commitments on campus. On top of being a computer engineering major, which is a rigorous new program, he is also part of the Mount Union Concert Choir and the men's volleyball team.

For Bruns, choosing the right university was no easy task. He knew he wanted to sing in a choir and also play volleyball at the collegiate level. Unfortunately, only a small number of universities offer men's volleyball right now. With this limitation, being in choir can sometimes interfere with the volleyball schedule.

In order to keep up with everything on his plate, Bruns attributes his success so far to one simple thing: time management.

"Scheduling classes earlier on and getting work done in advance have helped me stay on top of everything so far," Bruns said, "It's all about time management. A lot of people fall into the habit of procrastinating and pushing things back. You just need to set goals and stick to them."

When asked about being part of the recently introduced men's volleyball team, which had its inaugural season in 2019, Bruns had nothing but praise. The chemistry on the team is "much better than other teams," he said.

As a new team, there are no seniors. Since everyone is around the same age, he stated that everyone can build a strong connection with each other. Bruns has big expectations for himself and the rest of the team this year, as they look to build a winning culture in their second season as a program.

Bruns has also had to balance all of his commitments with traveling for choir and volleyball. When volleyball is in season from January through May, traveling for hours on end every week is guaranteed. In addition to this, he also had the opportunity to travel internationally with the choir, including a trip to Scotland in June.

His major, like the volleyball program, is also new. Mount Union's computer engineering major is "tough, and has a lot of coursework," according to Bruns. Many of the classes only have a select number of students in them, which has allowed him to make really close connections with his professors and his peers.

Though Bruns has joined many new programs and has many commitments to attend to, it hasn't been easy to maintain balance. Through hard work and dedication, he has thrived during his time on campus.

Upon graduation from Mount Union, Bruns plans to attend graduate school. After that, he hopes to start a career in the computer engineering field.

Interested in business at a young age, William "Bill" Clark '90 first heard of Mount Union and its business program through a college fair in his native Baltimore, Maryland. Once Dr. Hugh Jae told him about the internship opportunities that would be possible, he was sold on making the trip to Alliance.

When he got to campus, Clark gained classroom knowledge that provided a foundation for his future endeavors.

"Like with a lot of undergrads, gaining an awareness for the ins-and-outs of the business world was very helpful from the start through the course foundations," Clark said.

Clark was supplementing his career preparation with unique extracurricular experiences. He was part of a group of students who worked to bring the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity out of dormancy, and he describes the resulting reactivation as one of his favorite memories, creating a lifetime bond while on campus.

Getting career training where he least expected it, Clark also credits aspects of his current success to his time as president of the Black Student Union (BSU). He currently manages a staff of more than 20 people as director of government-wide acquisition policy and believes his time at the helm of BSU has helped inform his current leadership style.

"Now that I look back, there are things we accomplished in BSU that showed having leadership experience was not only important for my first job coming out of college, but also in my work today," Clark said.

APPLIED AND SO

Upon graduating with a degree in business administration, Clark's initial job in asset management was not what he saw for his future. Thus, in wanting to stay in business, he decided to apply to the management trainee program within the federal government.

That program has led to a 20-plus year career in the government, with Clark working his way up to senior executive, a position he has held for the past five years. The day-to-day responsibilities of his office include the important task of working with the Department of Defense and NASA in maintaining the Federal Acquisition Regulation, which governs the more than $500 billion that federal agencies spend on products and services.

"The most rewarding part of my job is interacting with the public and making everything as clear and efficient as possible, knowing that there are a lot of regulations that people have to follow," Clark said.

Clark's advice to prospective students is to visit a campus to make sure the feeling and fit are right for the needs of each individual. For Mount Union students seeking business careers, his more important note was to be prepared.

"It is important for people to have as much experience as possible, even if it is not specifically job experience," Clark said. "Employers are looking for proactive people with diverse backgrounds, and Mount Union provides that."

Quinnlan Crowe '20 had been coming to Mount Union for years from her hometown of New Springfield, Ohio to compete in Junior Olympic volleyball. Her athletic prowess was noted by Fred Brickner, assistant track and field coach, and Crowe was then recruited to be a thrower on the track and field team.

Not entirely sure what her college experience would look like during her senior year of high school, she became enamored with the idea of attending Mount during an overnight visit.

"I instantly fell in love with the beautiful landscape, the welcoming team, and the 'at home' feeling I was experiencing," Crowe said.

Although she still remains a top-10 finisher in shot put, discus, and javelin, Crowe's level of activity in the classroom might be of a higher volume than on the field. The triple major in international business and economics, human resource management, and French also had the opportunity to study abroad in Pau, France in 2018.

"During my time abroad, I was able to travel to six different countries where I was constantly put out of my comfort zone," Crowe said. "It was amazing to see how different people can live their lives."

both on and off campus to have a wide array of experiences upon graduating in May. She is a University Studies Abroad Consortium ambassador, career development assistant, and Society for Human Resource Management vice president, to name a few.

Regardless of her diverse collection of majors and co-curricular experiences, the Integrative Core has also provided her with opportunities to learn outside of her major, which she believes is essential for presenting the best version of oneself to a future employer.

"Mount Union has given me the courses that I need to succeed in human resources and international business, in addition to supporting and helping me through my entire study abroad experience, which has given me the fire to want to work abroad," Crowe said.

As a result, Crowe's ultimate goal is to be a global human resource manager for an international company and she is well on her way to, in her words, "...get out of the United States bubble and continue traveling and exploring the planet."

ASSOCIATION MESSAGE

Alumni Weekend and Homecoming 2019 fell on a picture-perfect October weekend. A fellow alum suggested the Stark County Convention and Visitors Bureau itself couldn't have asked for better.

The Board of Trustees, on which the president and vice president of the Alumni Association Executive Committee sit, met on Friday. In addition to the usual board oversight functions, we were also fortunate enough to attend the dedication ceremony of the newly named Oak Hall (née the Engineering and Business Building).

On a crisp Saturday morning, the strength of the marching band's practice clearly audible a mile down State Street, there was a large gathering of alumni for brunch and an awards ceremony. Fellow Alumni Association member Len Slack '69 and his wife Lynda (Cailor '69) received the Dodie Davis Alumni Service Award following a lovely introduction by their daughter-in-law and Mount Union alumnae Jennifer (Thurin '03) Slack, and Dean Davis (for she'll always be Dean Davis to the thousands of us who knew her way back when) attended, which made the recognition all the more meaningful.

Of note, and at the risk of burying the lede, Dr. Richard Drake '72 and his wife Cheryl (Brown '72) Drake kicked off Mount Union's $50 million capital campaign, Inspiring Minds, Transforming Lives, with the inaugural run of an impressive video and by announcing an equally impressive $34 million in contributions. The campaign will address a number of institutional needs, including scholarships and aid, so the University can better address issues of affordability. The video, along with the campaign's vision and goals, is available online at mountunion.edu/inspire. Please visit, learn, and contribute.

Speaking of contributions, the 50th anniversary class of 1969 raised an epic (in the words of President Merriman) $692,341. Witnessing large contributions on Publishers Clearing House-sized checks is a joyful event.

Alumni Association officers serve limited terms, two years as vice president and two years as president, and my term is closing. I am grateful to the Office of Alumni Engagement staff, particularly former directors Anne (Zimmer '95) Graffice and Tiffany Hogya, and current director Audra (Lee '04) Youngen, for their guidance, counsel, and support; to my predecessors Bill Shumacher '82 and Joel Sassa '78 for setting good examples, and to Chad Johnson '07, who will be next at the helm and who is responsible for much of our recent success.

P.S. On top of all the weekend victories, the weather, the fellowship, the fundraising, the football team brought home another victory. When I saw Dean Taylor with the sun shining at his back at his usual end zone post, I knew no other outcome was possible.

-Bob Kerr '89 Alumni Association President

Mackenzie Parsons '14 and Austen Hutton '12 were married September 14, 2019.

Alex Koehler '10 recently completed a 45-mile bike ride for Pelotonia, an organization and an event with one goal - ending cancer. Koehler raised nearly $2,000 this year to fund cancer research.

2019 MOUNT UNION ALUMNI WEEKEND AND HOMECOMING

WANT TO GET INVOLVED?

The Alumni Association was officially organized in 1948. All alumni, and anyone who has attended Mount Union for at least one semester, are members of the Alumni Association. Its purpose is to promote interest in Mount Union through a variety of programs and is governed by the Alumni Association Executive Board.

Those interested in getting involved can visit mountunion.edu/giving/ engagement/volunteer for more information.

M Club is the varsity letter-winner's association at Mount Union. A student athlete lettering in a varsity sport (men's or women's) at Mount Union is automatically a member of M Club upon graduation and may join the executive board. The following committees exist within the M Club organizational structure:

• Nominations/Hall of Fame Committee Responsible for the review and selection of the prestigious M Club Hall of Fame award winners yearly.

• Events Committee

Coordinates social gatherings used to build camaraderie as well as raise funds for the support of student athletes. This committee meets monthly to continue the functionality of the group and develop programming to engage student-athlete alumni.

The Mount Union Women organization has been supporting the education of women at Mount Union for more than 85 years. The organization provides social opportunities for Mount Union graduates and friends and raises money for scholarships that are given to deserving female students.

Funds for scholarships come from donations, proceeds from working in the concession stand at home football games, and various fundraising activities conducted throughout the year.

For more information on how to get involved, or to make a donation to the scholarship fund, visit mountunionwomen.org. You can also stay connected on the Mount Union Women Facebook page!

Dave '69 and Deppie (Betz '73) Wolpert

Dave '69 and Debby (Betz '73) Wolpert are inspiring minds and transforming lives at the University of Mount Union. Inspired themselves by their positive interactions with students and their ever-growing love for Mount, the Wolperts give generously in support of numerous special projects and initiatives on campus.

The couple has spent more than 40 years investing in Mount Union students. Their post-graduate involvement began as head residents in McCready Hall in the late '70s. Over the years, they have continued to stay connected by attending athletic games, theatre productions, choir concerts, and more. To this day, you can find them working out side-by-side with students in the MAAC throughout the week.

For the Wolperts, it always comes back to the students.

"The main reason we stay involved on campus and give financially is because of the students," Debby said. "As alumni, we are incredibly proud of the young people at Mount. They continue to give us so much joy that we want to do as much as we can to help them succeed."

In addition to their support for The Mount Union Fund, the President's Rescue Fund, M Club, and the Mount Union Stadium renovation project, Dave and Debby have established the Wolpert Family Scholarship. With a special passion for making Mount Union more affordable for students of all backgrounds, they recently decided to make an even more substantial philanthropic investment in their scholarship with an added estate commitment as part of the Inspiring Minds, Transforming Lives campaign, for which they serve as campaign cabinet members and volunteers.

"Throughout the years, we've supported many projects, but our main focus has always remained with our endowed family scholarship because of the lasting benefits it will have," Dave said. "It's very rewarding knowing that future students will continue to benefit from our gift for many years to come."

The Wolperts have created a legacy of their own that will benefit students now and long into the future.

There are so many ways you, too, can make a lasting difference at Mount Union. For more information, contact The Office of University Advancement at (800) 992-6682, ext. 2286 or advancement@mountunion.edu.

It is with great pride and appreciation that I provide Mount Union's annual Honor Roll of Investors recognizing the unwavering support of our alumni, friends, faculty, staff, parents, and students from the 2018-2019 academic year. As you turn the pages before you, you will see the names of fellow community members who have compassionately given of their time, talent, and financial resources in support of Mount Union's mission to prepare students for fulfilling lives, meaningful work, and responsible citizenship.

For the past couple of years, the Office of Advancement, along with other members of the campus community, have been diligently committed to raising additional support for the University's comprehensive campaign, Inspiring Minds, Transforming Lives. This campaign largely addresses Mount Union's top priority – affordability – ensuring that every deserving student has the opportunity to pursue a Mount Union education, no matter their background. Along with our dedication to expanding scholarship opportunities, we are committed to enhancing our high-quality academic programs, while introducing additional areas of study to meet the growing interest of our diverse student body.

The generosity of our Mount Union family is the foundation of everything we do. Because of your investments, Mount Union continues to thrive by providing opportunities of exceptional value. Our state-of-the-art learning spaces promote innovation and collaboration, while we continue to nurture community and personal growth in other areas among the next generation of leaders.

DIAMOND CIRCLE

In 2019, the University of Mount Union established a new giving society to celebrate an extraordinary group of investors who share a similar vision, passion, love, and honor for Mount Union through a lifetime of philanthropic dedication and involvement. This leadership giving society recognizes the loyalty of Mount Union's most generous benefactors who have made lifetime gifts totaling $1 million or more. It is the profound commitment of Diamond Circle members that enables the University to not only sustain an enduring legacy of excellence, achievement, and pride but also help lay the foundation for what Mount Union will become in the future.

Endowments are permanent funds that provide support for academic pursuits and programs at the University of Mount Union. Private gifts to the University create these endowments. Donors determine the purpose for which endowment income may be spent. Some common purposes include the following.

- Scholarships and awards
- · Chairs, professorships, and other faculty and staff positions
- · Support for an academic program of the University, department, building, or area
- Academic research
- Purchase of journals, books, art, technology, or equipment

Since the institution's inception in 1846, thousands of donors have contributed to endowment funds established for hundreds of purposes at Mount Union. Generous support for higher education, coupled with conservative and effective investment strategies, has resulted in an endowment currently valued at $145 million (as of June 30, 2019).

The Mount Union Fund is a critical source of revenue that underwrites virtually every aspect of a Mount Union education. Because of the generosity of alumni, employees, parents, and friends who provide gifts to The Mount Union Fund each year, our students are able to enjoy an exceptional educational experience. Annual support for The Mount Union Fund ensures scholarships are awarded, books are given to deserving students, study abroad experiences are made possible, and state-of-the-art equipment is added to the classroom. Unrestricted in nature, every gift to The Mount Union Fund is utilized where it is needed most and supports the operating costs essential to building quality into every aspect of college life. We are truly grateful for the nearly 3,000 donors who contributed to The Mount Union Fund this past fiscal year.

1846 SOCIETY

Our premier annual giving society, the 1846 Society, honors and recognizes those donors who share a special commitment to the advancement of the University. Through an annual investment at the leadership level of $1,250 or more to The Mount Union Fund, donors become essential partners in our mission to prepare students for fulfilling lives, meaningful work, and responsible citizenship. The University salutes the following individuals who made a significant difference during the last fiscal year (July 1, 2018-June 30, 2019).

RING, RING...

OUR STUDENTS ARE REACHING OUT TO YOU

If you have received a phone call from one of our student callers, then you have experienced our Raider Relations Call Center hard at work. These students are tasked with representing the University and growing support for The Mount Union Fund. Our callers would love the opportunity to hear about your own Mount Union experience, share campus news, and invite you to give back to your University. WANDERSGIVE

IT'S AN ANNUAL EFFORT!

Among our many goals: one conversation with each alum, per year. If you haven't heard from a student yet, be on the lookout for a call in the new year. They are not only calling to ask for support but also to share updates and to thank our generous donors for the great opportunities and experiences they are enjoying at Mount Union.
